Gran Feudo Reserva

“A Reserva with body and elegance. Its structure and depth balance fruit, oak, and time, reflecting the character of the Navarre vineyard.”

Javier Garbayo, Winemaker

Origin

Navarra's contrasting climate creates ideal conditions for red varieties. In Cintruénigo, a mix of clay, marl, and gravel soils fosters optimal ripening, combining maturity, freshness, and structure. The region's natural richness enhances both sustainability and vineyard identity.

Description

The Traditional Range embodies the soul of Gran Feudo and our connection to its origins. These are honest wines that have accompanied generations, speaking clearly through their character.

Winemaking

The wine is blended and aged for 36 months in French and American oak barrels, gaining complexity and depth.

Grape variety

Tempranillo provides structure and ripe black fruit; Garnacha contributes freshness and a vibrant fruit character. Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot add depth and spicy nuances, resulting in a balanced and long-lived wine.
